

Chapter 2-Getting Ready

Photo Source and more information

St. Louis, MO

August 31, 1803 Through May 1804

Lewis sees hundreds of squirrels migrating over the river. He tells Seaman to catch some. Of course, he does. Then Seaman meets York, becoming good friends with him. After that, Lewis & Clark decide which men go on the expedition. Later, they meet some Indians, who try to trade three beaver pelts for Seaman. Lewis naturally refuses.

Discussion questions

1) Why is York nice to Seaman?

2) How do Lewis & the crew get water?

by Nicolas

Google Earth - Edit Placemark

Name: Chapter 2-Getting Ready

Latitude: 38° 0'0.00"N

Longitude: 90° 0'0.00"W

Description Style, Color View Altitude

Description:

`<center>

Photo Source and more information</center>
St. Louis, MO
August 31, 1803 Through May 1804</center>

Lewis sees hundreds of squirrels migrating over the river.
He tells Seaman to catch some. Of course, he does. Then Seaman meets York, becoming good friends with him. After that, Lewis & Clark decide which men go on the expedition. Later, they meet some Indians, who try to trade three beaver pelts for Seaman. Lewis naturally refuses.

Discussion questions

1) Why is York nice to Seaman?

2) How do Lewis & the crew get water?

by Nicolas
`

OK Cancel